Trend Micro Reports Q3 2026 Results with 9% Net Sales Growth and an 18% Operating Margin

TrendAI™ enterprise net sales grew 12% year over year, and Vision One SaaS ARR grew 46% to US$564 million.

TrendLife™ net sales grew 1% year over year, and Digital Life Protection ARR grew 37% to US$141 million.

TOKYO, Nov. 12, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- Trend Micro Incorporated (TSE: 4704) today reported a 9% year-over-year increase in consolidated net sales for the third quarter ended September 30, 2026. Company-wide annual recurring revenue (ARR) reached US$1.76 billion. Year-over-year ARR growth accelerated from 3% in Q1 to 5% in Q2 and 6% in Q3.

TrendAI™, the company's enterprise business, grew net sales 12% year over year. Enterprise ARR reached US$1.292 billion, up 8% year over year. On a comparable basis, TrendAI added US$31 million in enterprise ARR in Q3, up from US$21 million in Q2.*

TrendAI Vision One™ delivered strong growth across SaaS, Sovereign and Services. SaaS remained the largest and fastest-growing component, with ARR up 46% to US$564 million. Sovereign ARR grew 15% and Services ARR grew 25% year over year. Existing customers also expanded their use of the platform, with net revenue retention of 119%.

TrendLife™, the consumer business, grew net sales and ARR by 1% year over year. Digital Life Protection ARR rose 37% to US$141 million, representing 30% of TrendLife's US$463 million in ARR.

Enterprise investments begin to show results

In Q2, Trend Micro pointed to its enterprise pipeline as an early sign that its investments would translate into faster ARR growth. In Q3, TrendAI added US$31 million in ARR, compared with US$21 million in Q2. More than 420 strategic managed service providers (MSPs) now sell Vision One, and ARR from MSPs selling the platform grew 155% year over year. Services ARR reached US$88 million, and the number of services customers grew 13%.

"Attackers are using AI to move faster, and that changes when our work as defenders needs to begin. The more we can anticipate how an attack might unfold and prepare protection in advance, the better chance our customers have of keeping their data safe and their operations running," said Eva Chen, co-founder and CEO of Trend Micro. "We see that need reflected in our business. New customers are choosing Vision One, and existing customers are expanding how they use it because they want to act before those threats disrupt their business."

Consolidated financial results

Consolidated net sales were ¥75.3 billion. Operating income was ¥13.2 billion, compared with ¥6.2 billion in Q2 and ¥16.0 billion a year earlier. Operating margin improved from Q2.

Net income attributable to owners of the parent was ¥8.6 billion.

Trend Micro maintained its forecast for the year ending December 31, 2026. The company expects consolidated net sales of ¥301.5 billion, operating income of ¥44.4 billion and net income attributable to owners of the parent of ¥30.7 billion.

Third quarter business highlights

- AWS Marketplace sales surpassed US$1 billion. In August, TrendAI surpassed US$1 billion in cumulative global sales through AWS Marketplace, where customers can purchase security using their existing AWS spending commitments. Announcement
